ANTI-DUMPING AND COUNTERVAILING
Dumping refers to imported merchandise being sold at unfairly low or subsidized prices. Anti-Dumping regulations allow the domestic governments to collect duties to offset the pricing in an effort to create a fair and level playing field for domestic businesses.

International Trade Administration Enforcement
U.S. International Trade Commission
US Customs and Border Protection