Key activity: Risk and hazard assessment

Step-by-step approach to consider risk related to social responsibility during the product concept stage.

- Discuss client expectations
- Define acceptable standards
- Identify areas of risk and hazard
- Define audit procedures
- Communicate the value of adopting a code of conduct
- Define contractual requirements and vendor agreements with factory

Establish social accountability expectations

Communicate your expectations with potential vendors during this stage

- Develop a corporate responsibility statement
- Incorporate social responsibility expectations into corporate policies
- Have the factory complete a five-pillar compliance questionnaire
- Train internal staff regarding expectations