

MackPac Branding is looking for Sales Branding Specialists to Join Our Team

If you want stability, opportunity, training, support and growth, you've come to the right place! MackPac Branding is a print manufacturer and customized promotional item company since 1996 and we are searching for proactive self-starter salespeople with positive attitudes. How would you like to be a salesperson that actually sells full time without having to do the sales presentations or writing your own orders? We have a CRM and weekly training sessions, so you'll have all the tools necessary to help your clients brand their business. Every business is a potential customer so if you are selling labels, packaging, apparel, customized promotional items or even an ecommerce store we can do it here at MackPac Branding. Please send your resume and cover letter to Bob@Mackpac.com. Promotional items or print sales experience is a plus but not necessary. Compensation is based on experience. Mackpac Branding is an equal opportunity employer.
